

CRAIN'S

NEW YORK BUSINESS

NY NY WEN YANG

is part of a growing Baroque music movement

PAGE 21

OUT AND ABOUT

by Emily Laerner and Miriam Kreinin Souccar

CULTURE FIX TUESDAY, MAY 7

Explore the portrayal of JEWISH ARTS AND IDENTITY IN THE CONTEMPORARY WORLD at a free conference hosted by Baruch College's Jewish Studies Center. It will feature panel discussions with directors, off-Broadway actors, composers, artists, and college professors, including art-history instructor Samantha Baskind. It starts at noon at Baruch Performing Arts Center's Engelman Recital Hall, 55 Lexington Ave., at East 25th Street. For reservations, email jewish.studies.center@baruch.cuny.edu.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 8, AND THURSDAY, MAY 9

Taste the fruits of some of the best wineries at GREAT WINES OF ITALY: NEW YORK CITY, an event that will feature a selection of close to 400 of the top labels. On Wednesday, there will be a walk-around tasting and cheese bar, and on Thursday, a three-course dinner. The events are at St. Bart's, 325 Park Ave., between East 50th and East 51st streets. Tickets start at $195 for the tasting and $275 for the dinner. For more information, visit www.jonestasting.com.

CAREER BUILDERS MONDAY, MAY 6

Discover how the European financial crisis unfolded at IMPERFECT UNION: THE EUROZONE IN CRISIS, a screening of PBS' Great Decisions in Foreign Policy and panel discussion. The question-and-answer session will include eurozone crisis experts from the United Nations. It is at 3:15 p.m. at the United Nations' Dag Hammarskjöld Auditorium, 780 United Nations Plaza, between East 43rd and East 44th streets. It is free for Foreign Policy Association members and $7 for nonmembers. For more information, visit www.fpa.org.

THURSDAY, MAY 9

Hear from a renowned neuroscientist at the 16th annual WOMEN & SCIENCE, a lecture and luncheon hosted by The Rockefeller University. Cori Bargmann, who works on microscopic organisms and is a recipient of the inaugural $3 million Breakthrough Prize in Life Sciences, will speak. It is at noon at 1230 York Ave., at East 66th Street. Tickets are $500 each. For more information, visit www.womenandscience.rockefeller.edu.